Activity Among the Fraternities—Dr. Payne to Read Paper Before Medical Society—Mrs. Dock's Property Goes to Her Son—Funeral of Samuel A. Wheeler Held at Mystic—Masonic Apron for Judge Rathbun.

At a session of Charity and Relief lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Mystic, on Tuesday evening, it was voted to attend divine service in the Methodist Episcopal church, next Sunday morning, when Rev. C. T. Hatch will deliver a special sermon. The members of Eastern Star chapter of Mystic and of Asylum lodge of Sunnington have been invited.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and Worshipful Master Benjamin W. Latham sprang a decidedly pleasing surprise, when he deputized Senior Deacon John Wiley to present Judge Herbert W. Rathbun, in the east, an elaborate past master Mason's apron. The presentation speech recited the zealous and efficient work that had been done for the lodge, which now had a membership of 225. Judge Rathbun, in accepting the beautiful and significant testimonial, gave full expression of his gratification and appreciation.

The apron is the handiwork of a member of the Eastern Star, of Boston, is exquisitely designed and embroidered.

At the close of the Masonic session, there was adjournment to the banquet hall, where clam chowder and all the extras were served, under the direction of Chief George J. Hoydecker. Master Latham being the host. Besides the Masons, there were twenty members of the Mystic Hook and Ladder company as special guests.

There are several candidates for admission to the lodge. On the date of the raising of the candidates to the master's degree, there will be an afternoon session, and several Masons of Norwich and New London will receive special invitations to attend.

Dr. M. H. Scanlon, district deputy, Knights of Columbus, and suite, installed the officers of the regular meeting No. 21, at the regular meeting held in their hall in the Murphy building, Wednesday evening. The officers were:

Rev. Peter McOscar, chaplain; Martin H. Spellman, grand knight; Patrick H. Mullany, deputy grand knight; Thomas V. Clancy, chancellor; James Shea, recording secretary; John J. Carney, financial secretary; Thomas Cowley treasurer; Patrick W. Shea, warden; Joseph T. Murphy, lecturer; John J. Dunn, advocate; John Allen, inside guard; Peter McGann, outside guard; Thomas V. Clancy, musical director; Michael Higgins, Edward Fenelon, Cornelius Murphy, trustees; Martin H. Spellman, Dr. John M. O'Connell, delegates, and Eugene O'Neill, Cornelius Murphy, alternates to state convention.

This is John J. Carney's fifteenth year as financial secretary, and Thomas Cowley's twelfth year as treasurer. Narragansett council of Westerly is the oldest as well as the largest in membership in the state of Rhode Island.

There will be a session of the members of the Westerly Medical society at the office of Dr. Russell B. Smith this (Thursday) evening, when Dr. F. Dr. Payne will read a paper on "The Leucodermatous Light: Its Benefit to Patient and Physician. There will be general discussion of the paper, led by Dr. Payne.

The will of Susan V. Dock was admitted to probate Wednesday at a special session of the probate court, Judge Edward M. Burke presiding. All her property of whatever character, is bequeathed to her only son, Herman Dock of Westerly, and he was nominated as executor under the will. Mr. Dock was confirmed as executor and furnished a bond of $400, with James A. Welch as surety.

At the annual meeting of Deborah chapter, No. 95, of the Order of Eastern Star, the following officers were elected and installed: Miss Minnie Patterson, matron; Thomas Mc-

Waterbury.—The year 1909 was a record breaker in so far as it concerns marriages, just 729 couples having been married in this city during the year.

Middletown.—There were 47 deaths in Middletown during the month of December. Of this number 22 are to be credited to the month of January, which the pastor and other clergymen will speak.

West Hartford.—Instead of the usual observation of the week of prayer, services will be held in the North Congregational church on each Thursday evening of the month of January, with the pastor and other clergymen will speak.

Torrington.—The strong wind of last Monday night broke the locks on the front doors of the Methodist church and blew them open. Officer C. E. Nickerson, who was passing the building at 2 o'clock in the morning, noticed that the doors were open.

Heating Outdoors to Save Fruit.

The 1909 crop of fruit in the Grand Valley in Colorado, from the Palisades above to Loma below, valued at $3,000,000, was threatened by a new and terrible battle which was waged against Jack Frost at a time when the fruit was at its tenderest age. By unusual generalship and the work of hundreds of enthusiastic volunteers the temperature in these orchards was actually raised eight and nine degrees over 27 miles of territory, and a precedent was established which will mean much to the future.

The raising of the temperature over this large area was accomplished by means of some 300,000 smudge pots of many different types, some burning at 100 degrees, others at 150 degrees, and some at 200 degrees. Oil was carried to the pots in wagon tanks equipped for the purpose. Spraying machines were also used in distributing the oil. A large supply of lighters was kept in readiness in a dry place. Many of these lighters were made by wrapping the wick about a twisted wire.

All operations were directed from Grand Junction. Weather stations established of the territory and equipped with thermometers, when the threatening weather arrived made half hourly reports of the temperature to Grand Junction. When finally the danger point was reached, the fire was sent to all ranchmen to light the fires. Volunteers in nearly all walks of life made their way in automobiles and wagons and on bicycles over the entire area.

So well did this orchard heating idea work that while the temperature outside of the heated area dropped as low as 20 degrees, within the heated area it did not go below 21-2. Seventy-five per cent of all the fruit trees which were in bloom were saved from directly, while even orchards owned by those who were skeptical of the idea were saved by the fire in the adjoining territory.—Scientific American.

Six Years of Mellen.

Even here in New England we sometimes fail to realize what a change has come over the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad since Mr. Mellen took charge of it; but the scope and importance of the change are well set forth in the January number of the Outlook, an energetic president of the New Haven system his well-nigh remade it. He has proved himself a strategist as well as a financier and practical railway operator; and, thanks to his foresight, the railroad is in a better position than ever before. Circumstances have led it to expand to Lake Ontario along the Pennsylvania, through the medium of the Ontario & Western road; to acquire the Central New England road and the Poughkeepsie bridge; to obtain control also of the Boston & Maine, nearly all the Sound lines of steamboats and a large proved by the fire in the adjoining territory.—Scientific American.

Any Lady May Do It at Home—Costs Nothing to Try.

"Sure, Pat, go as far as you like," De Milt replied.

"Sheddy did so, and lost $3,000 of his prospective profits from the picture deal with the millionaire Freer. The first payment he made after the sale was the $3,000 to De Milt."

How Old Are You?

That sounds like a ridiculous question, but when you come to consider it closely it isn't. There is many a youthful fellow of 25 who realizes Dickens' description of the "damaged young man." While we all know the type of florid faced, elderly and well preserved "old boy" who never ages or sages. Both of these are not the kind we want in the house. They are lovable, however, and their lives convey a lesson. The rapid pace of the one we deplore; the fertility of the other's life we have only to shake our heads.

Take, now, the other sex. Women know how to do these things. The purest of women to sustain the affection of the one man she cares for will condescend to a species of triology. That has been proven over and over. Suppose we ask the readers of this article right now the question which entitles it: "How old are you?" How many women would respond with truthful figures? And why shouldn't they? What is wrong about getting old? Shouldn't we be proud of our age and wisdom and the experience of life?—Philadelphia Press.
